End policies fueling mass incarceration!

Michigan's harsh sentencing and parole policies cost taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars every year. That's millions that could be used for programs proven to prevent crime — like education, mental health, substance abuse treatment and job creation.

Join Detroit Action Commonwealth and CAPPS on June 13 at the UofM Detroit Center in Detroit to learn about sentencing and parole reforms that would safely reduce the prisoner population and save millions to reinvest in our children and our communities.

Workshops: AFSC on Parole and SADO on Appeals.

The American Friends Service Committee helps prisoners' families and friends help their loved ones prepare for their parole interviews. Everyone is encouraged to attend this "Throwing away the key" throws away taxpayers' dollars.

Simply keeping people longer does not increase public safety.

We need to invest in books, not bars; jobs, not jails.

informative workshop to learn more about the parole process. Additionally, an attorney from the State Appellate Defender Office will present on the appellate process, and offer information on the Michigan Department of Corrections' polices and procedures.
